

Male(M)/Female(F) designation is based upon the pin orientation, not the visible appearance of the connector.